

What would the British Transport Police do with an additional 16 officers, or extra time valued at £1,040,000?

THE 16 FTE / £1M OPPORTUNITY

Over the last 10 years, OoCRs have been in steady decline, whilst the Court backlog has risen to record levels. Using OoCR data published by Transform Justice & court preparation workload calculations from Durham police we believe that each case diverted from court using Make Time Count saves your force approximately 20 hours. Nationally we estimate police savings to be almost £100m. Given your current profile, we estimate the savings for your force to be 16 FTEs or £1m

HOW YOUR FORCE COMPARES

Your force sits 40th in the overall OoCR rankings, up from 41st in 2023. 77% of your caseload goes to court. OoCRs account for only 5%. Of the 5 forces with the highest OoCR usage, only 50% are sent to court

Estimated workload for 4,700 court cases = 192,700 hours, 164 FTEs or £10.7m
Workload for 296 OoCRs = 6,216 hours, 05 FTEs or £0.3m
This gives a total workload = 198,916 hours, 169 FTEs or £11m

Current Rank: 40th up from 41st in 2023

WHAT YOU COULD ACHIEVE

Using Make Time Count's eligibility screening tool, assume an additional 20% of the court caseload are resolved swiftly using OoCRs, that's only 78 extra per month. Our unique end to end platform minimises the admin overhead of OoCRs, enabling officers to quickly assess criminogenic needs and refer user to local partners. All follow-ups are handled by the platform. Further mitigating staff overhead.

Revised workload for 3,760 court cases = 154,160 hours, 131 FTEs or £8.5m
Workload for 1236 OoCRs = 25,956 hours, 22 FTEs or £1.4m
This gives a total workload = 180,116 hours, 153 FTEs or £10m

CASE STUDY

Since 2023, Make Time Count has been actively deployed across one of the UK's largest police forces to manage their out of court resolutions. In addition, we have expanded our support across additional key areas of their program delivery including drug testing on arrest and youth offending.

In this time, they have gone from being ranked 37th nationally to 14th & climbing. We estimate, they have diverted upwards of 1000+ cases from court :

Overall annual saving estimate = 19,463 hours, 17FTEs or £1.08m

2023 37th +23 places 2025 14th
